SETTING THE SCENE

OUR on-going technical development drive has now seen us move to launch our product across the US, with our range now UL accredited to US standards.

During the past 12 months we have already made a massive drive in and around New York and the surrounding states.

Recently we sent our Technical Director out with our latest distribution partner, Suffolk Facilities Management LLC to Florida.

The team spent a week working with our Florida-an distribution partner and their teams educating the market as well as overseeing the first installation in the southern state.

Florida now has SAHP coverage from Jacksonville in the north down to Miami with a number of units installed and delivering efficient and cost effective water heating.
